Extension Chamber of Crafts, Dortmund

A new office building for the Dortmund Trades Association will be built on the existing educational centre site in the Ardeystraße in Dortmund. It is inserted between the western edges of the old buildings – the arrangement of differently cantilevered storeys defines the main visitor entrance. On the ground floor, direct links to the existing buildings are provided via the north and south entrances.

The offices are developed from 5m module types to ensure flexible arrangements that are responsive to the changing needs of office structures.
