Zhejiang intelligent transportation exhibition hall, Hangzhou, Zhejiang, China

The Intelligent Transformation Centre is located in the city of Hangzhou, Zhejiang Province. As an important part of the Xiaoshan science and technology hub, the 'Zhejiang Intelligent Transportation Exhibition Hall' is the core building of the newly constructed 'Smart Transformation Industrial Park'.

The exhibition hall is located in the middle of a water landscape. Three circular conically converging building bodies overlap each other after the 2nd, 3rd and 4th levels to create a multi-directional, dynamic and mixed architectural form. The architectural design of the façade is inspired by the intelligent transport system. The ensemble's functions include exhibition spaces, a studio and a conference hall.
